C. A local food guide

There's never been a better time to eat out in Bournemouth. Three of the town's top restaurants are reviewed below.

Jill's Diner American burger	The Happy Carrot Vegetarian	The Royal Oak Upmarket British
This is no ordinary fast food restaurant. Jill's Diner serves American classics (burgers, hot dogs, fries) but made with high-quality, locally sourced ingredients. We also love the red leather booths and the jukebox playing 1950s rock 'n' roll. Be sure to order the vanilla milkshake – it's out of this world!	Think vegetarian food is boring? Then The Happy Carrot will change your mind! The menu takes inspiration from world cuisine with plenty of spices and unusual flavours. This is a great place for a quick lunch as soups, salads and sandwiches form the bulk of the menu. The decor is bright and cheerful.	Looking to impress? Whether it's business or romantic, The Royal Oak is sure to succeed. This modern British restaurant has a gorgeous interior and food to match. British meals are reinvented by chef-owner Andy Jones. His take on classic roast beef is his most famous dish, but don't miss out on the Whitby fish pie.
Average price £20	Average price £15	Average price £65

Subject: Whose fault?

Hello Danny,

I'm sorry you won't be out of bed for a few days but your mother told me it's nothing serious. Anyway, you've only got yourself to blame. The plan was simple: an anonymous note from "someone who likes you" asking you to go the chemistry lab after school. I knew you'd think it was from one of the girls in our class, that you wouldn't suspect anything, and that you'd be flattered and go to meet her. Then I was going to follow you, lock you in and not let you out for a few hours.

I wanted to punish you because you were seen at the cinema with Janet Walsh on Friday and at a party with Emma Farley on Saturday! What's more, you've been avoiding me for over a week! You could at least have told me you didn't want to go out with me any more.

It all went to plan until you climbed onto a table to try and get out through the window and knocked those chemicals over. I'm sorry you got hurt in the explosion, but maybe it's taught you a lesson.
